

J. MADISON ILER
143 Albany St. #313A
Cambridge, MA 02139
(617) 225-7125
e-mail: madison@mit.edu

Education

MIT SLOAN SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

Cambridge, MA

Candidate for MBA, June 2001

- Teaching Assistant for Systems Dynamics for Business Policy, Fall 2000 and Spring 2001
- Executive Committee, Socially Responsible Business Club
- Member of Management Consulting Club, Sloan Women in Management, and Sloan Volleyball

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Boulder, CO

B.A. in Economics, August 1993

Experience

Summer 2000

INTELLIMAGIX, INC.

Cambridge, MA

Summer Intern

- Performed market entry analysis for early stage start-up in automotive maintenance information
- Worked with founders to complete the business plan and 5-years of projected financial statements in order to pursue initial venture funding
- With founders, planned financing goals and developed presentations for potential investors

1996 - 1999

ANTARCTIC SUPPORT ASSOCIATES

McMurdo Station, Antarctica

Supported operations at a scientific research station in Antarctica for the National Science Foundation's U.S. Antarctic Program.

Quality and Training Supervisor, Supply (10/98 - 2/99)

- Quantified inventory accuracy and improvements for the station's 107,000 different stock items worth $42.6 million
- Developed and implemented inventory control procedures and reporting standards
- Conducted training for 45 supply employees and supervisors on inventory management, project planning, database use, and cargo tracking software

Supply Supervisor, Operations (1/98 - 9/98)

- Received an Outstanding Achievement Award from the National Science Foundation for work performance and community service
- Forecasted ordering requirements and managed $14 million of inventory in six warehouses for the vehicle maintenance facility, fuels department, and power and water plants
- Supervised three warehouse personnel

Materials Staff, L.M. Gould, Antarctic Research Vessel (10/97 - 12/97)

- Provided logistical and purchasing support for the outfitting of a new Antarctic research ship with science, communications, and computer equipment
- Recognized with a High Achiever's Award by the National Science Foundation and contractor Holmes & Narver, Inc. for contributions to the ship phase-in project

Materials Staff, Operations (9/96 - 10/97)

- Received a Quality Service Award for commitment to customer service and over $100,000 cost savings resulting from the reorganization of heavy equipment part storage areas
- Tracked cargo and maintained database content for 45,000 inventory records

1995 - 1996

PIZZA COLORE CAFE

Denver, CO

Kitchen Manager and Chef

- Managed kitchen operations, including staff training, inventory, cost control, and product quality

1994 - 1995

CONVENTION SERVICE CENTER

Denver, CO

Registration Coordinator

- Organized registration, travel, and on-site support for conferences of 150 to 2000 participants

Personal

- Volunteered as omelet chef, librarian, and social event planner in McMurdo Station, Antarctica
- Enjoy travel, adventure sports, and baking Italian desserts